Assignment 03 - Civics and Community Engagement

Civic Responsibility during the
"Islamabad Talks - April 2026"

In the current situation of the Islamabad talks - April 2026, Pakistan is playing a highly important global role by hosting historic negotiations between Iran and the United States. This event has increased the international importance of Pakistan and created hope for peace in the world. At the same time, for security reasons, the government of Pakistan has announced local holidays, work-from-home policies, and online classes.

As a student and responsible citizen, I understand that national interest must come first. Therefore, it is my duty to cooperate with the government while also managing my academic responsibilities and community engagement tasks in a smart and productive manner.

The first responsibility of a student in such a situation is to strictly follow government instructions. If movement is restricted, I should avoid unnecessary travel and stay at home unless there is an emergency.

This helps reduce traffic, maintain security and support law enforcement agencies. Since world leaders and international media are present in Islamabad, every citizen must behave responsibly. I would also avoid spreading rumors or false news on social media because misinformation can create panic and damage Pakistan's image before world.

Secondly, I must continue my academic works seriously despite the shift to online mode. Instead of treating online classes as a holiday, I would make a proper daily timetable. I would attend all online lectures on time, complete assignments before deadlines, and stay connected with with teachers through emails or learning portals. I would use free time from commuting for studying, reading, and improving my skills. Disciplines and ^{time} management are necessary during online learning.

Regarding the Civic engagement project, I would prefer activities that allow me to serve society through individual efforts rather than depending heavily on supervisors or physical field visits. Since movement is limited, I would choose 50 creative community service activities that can be done independently and safely.

The activity I would like to perform is a plantation drive in my local drive. Trees are essential for clean air, reducing pollution, and beautifying the environment. I can plant saplings near my home, in empty spaces of the neighbourhood or in pots if land is unavailable.

I can also encourage neighbors and friends to plant trees by sharing awareness messages online. This is a simple but powerful contribution to society and can be documented with photos, progress reports and reflections for my project.

In conclusion, my duty as a responsible student during the Islamabad Talks is to support national security measures, continue studies seriously, and contribute to society through safe independent activities such as plantation, cleanliness drives, and online awareness campaigns. At the same time, I must use this historic moment to build my skills for the future. By balancing civic duty, academics and self-development, I can achieve a true win-win outcome for myself and for Pakistan.
